PREMISE

3RD REGION SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT FORUM

Lombardy, the Engine of Sustainability

The region of Lombardy organizes the third edition of the Regional Forum on Sustainable Development, the annual event that gathers the voices of the Lombard territories and society on sustainability. This edition will allow to account for the work that was done during the legislature, to involve the several companies which contribute to the achievement of the 2030 Agenda goals on the territory and to take inspiration for the work and vision of the coming years, also thanks to the dialogue with high-profile institutional figures.

The social and economic actors will be engaged alongside the different levels of government, whose collaboration is a key factor with a view to the sustainable development, as well as the public and private actors engaged in territorial governance.

The Forum is held from 19th to 22nd October, and the day 18th October is dedicated to environmental education. Several related events will take place in the days before the Forum (Pre-Forum), partly by the Region's partners and especially by the signatories of the Regional Protocol for Sustainable Development.

All sessions can also be followed in live streaming at <https://www.svilupposostenibile.regione.lombardia.it/>

THE YOUNGER GENERATIONS

Young people, school, university, and research institutions bring their vision and commitment made by experiences, projects and partnerships, in order to achieve the Agenda2030 goals. Indeed, it is through training that the challenges of sustainability can become opportunities, according to a principle of empowerment for the younger generations and workers who will have to update their skills. Through the exchange of good practices, the places used for education and training activities can increase their potential to forge innovation and awareness, and to support the creative solutions needed for the future.

NEW MODELS OF SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT AND NEW ECONOMIC PARADIGMS

The question of economic models that include factors of sustainability, quality of life, and natural capital in determining development and well-being, economic and political analysis of a country or region has been debated for many years.

Recent boost from the evolution of the geopolitical and economic scenario has brought sustainability of development topic back to the attention of governments and the scientific world.

The topic that we want to address at the final event of the third Regional Sustainable Development Forum is how this ecological transition can be governed and which models should inspire those who govern it.

As Pope Francis writes: "Economic growth tends to produce automatism and to homogenize. This requires an economic ecology that is capable of leading to a broader view of reality. Environmental protection must be an integral part of the development process and cannot be considered in isolation." We believe that His speech on this issue can make a very valuable contribution.
